From Jim Crow to CEO is an inspiring memoir that chronicles the incredible journey of Janice Mathis, a woman who overcame adversity and shattered glass ceilings to achieve her dreams.

Janice was born in the segregated South in the 1940s. She grew up in a small town where racism was rampant. Despite the challenges she faced, Janice was determined to get an education and make a better life for herself.

She attended segregated schools and worked hard to overcome the obstacles she faced. She went on to college and eventually earned her MBA from Harvard Business School.

After graduating from Harvard, Janice began her career in business. She quickly rose through the ranks and eventually became the CEO of a major corporation.

Janice's story is an inspiration to anyone who has ever faced adversity. It is a story of hope, determination, and triumph.
